a pale thing compared to getting a personal word from one of the fighting men oneself. Why not treat yourself to this experience? It is extremely grati-fying and it is not costly.

What a Dollar Brings.

A dollar buys a great many smokes and it buys more gratitude and fills the ipient of the soldier's letter with a let it bring you some written words from France like the following:

The Status of Block Parties.

dorg parties are still being offered to ives and glows; it has an objection tender. With that understanding a block party on East Seventy-second street between First and Second avenues directed by Miss Pollak, at the head of a large committee, is being arranged. The block is to be roped off and a quarter charged for admission to it. There will be music and dancing, a service flag of about sixty-five stars is to be raised. Red Cross women are to offer comestibles for sale and a group of girls will sell flowers and programmes.

To-morrow night there will be a block party in Noll street, Brooklyn, between Evergreen and Bremen streets, conducted by the Nineteenth Assembly District White Caps, Incorporated. The committee has sent out many invitations and beforehand canvassed the neighborhood to ascertain the feeling. It was enthusiastically in support of the fund, and this party will surely turn out successfully. The music is to be furnished by Adam Mohr's band.

Another block party is scheduled for the evening of the 23d on Stanhope avenue, Brooklyn. The head of the committee is Joseph P. Stewart.

Remiember the Coupons.

The fund boxes in the cigar stores of the United had a rich harvest of coupons and certificates yesterday, a condition which observers say may be counted on every Monday. On Sunday smokers read how much this mode of helping the soldiers to smokes has sent over io the expeditionary forces and when Monday comes they add their quota as a maiter of course.

The compromise would have imposed a tax of 40 per cent. on profits above an exemption of $5,000 plus $ per cent. of the unvested capital, and would have imposed an exemption of $5,000 plus $ per cent. of the unvested capital, and would have imposed the $60 per cent. of invested capital, and would have imposed to the store of the unvested capital, and would have imposed to the store of the unvested capital, and would have imposed to the store of the unvested capital, and would have imposed to the store of the unvested capital. It developed to-day that the committee, largely to save the face of its chairman, Representative Kitchin (N. C.), will make some slight increases in the present excess profits schedule, but will not nearly approach the high rates upon which tentative decision was reached some time ago. It is practically a certainty also that the Treasury Department's wish that the income normal tax be made 12 per cent. and 13 per cent. instead of 10 per cent. and 13 normal tax be made 12 per cent, and 15 per cent, instead of 10 per cent, and 13 per cent, will be approved eventually.
The Treasury insistence on this centure of the new law is largely on account of the coming fourth issue of Liberty bonds. Exempting these bonds from the hormal tax will make it highly advantagenos to rich men to invest money in these Government bonds instead of other securities. The difference would be a very appreciable one to them, as the income from such bonds would be classed as uncarned income, hence the proposed normal tax of 15 per cent on uncarned come would be saved through investnent of money in Liberty bonds instead ment or money in Liberty bonds instead of in some other security.

The committee has taken no final action on this suggestion, but the sentiment of the majority of the members toward it, in view of the reasons given for the Treasury attitude, favors increasing the income normal tax.

5 or 6 Per Cent. Up to $4,000.

The present form of the income sections of the new law provide that the normal tax shall be 10 per cent. on earned incomes, but that on the first $4,000 of income the tax shall be only 5 per cent. If the normal tax of 12 per cent is adopted the tay of 12 per cent.
